TRADING STAMPS MAKE HIS OFFICE A NEW GRETNA GREEN.

Squire Burnett, of Nanticoke, Gives Bargains to Brides as Well as Kisses

Fred Burlew was quite busy with his catensive string, sending For Luck a stamps to the amount of the marriage seen it also and have contenued in vain

During the year there are many railroad excursions to Binghamton, which is the Gretna Green for this State, and the attractive advertisements of "$1 round trip to Binghamton" has caught the eye of many lovers, who have made a trip to Binghamton and got married there, free from the annoyance of getting a license and with the attraction of young man.

"Do you give trading stamps?" asked the girl.
"Whew!" said the Squire, "business is ting a license and with the attraction of a pleasant journey.

Attraction Was Great.

That this is a feature is evident from the number of marriages of Luzerne County folk in Binghamton. Here the usual wedding trip of the poorer classes is a carriage ride from one town to another, and fare for two to Binghamton is cheaper than hiring a carriage.

All these things taken into account it is not strange that the past summer saw scores from this valley speeding.

The offer whatever the consequences.

"You bet I am," he replied. "Why it is the best thing for the town that has heppened for some time. What kind of a reputation do you think Nanticoke will have if neople increase this practice of going away to be married? If neople kept coming to my office from new treatment.

Binghamton and getting married I'd think Binghamton a pretty poor sort of a blace. If trading stamps are what they want they shall have them. We want they shall have them. We can list them up as tightly here as anywhere and just as artistically. Women want bargains. There is something to mothing—apparently—and if you make it attractive for the women the men will follow."

The this offer whatever the consequences.

"You bet I am," he replied. "Why the stream they that has heppened for some time. What kind of a reputation do you think Nanticoke will have if neople increase this practice of going away to be married? If neople kept coming to my office from new treatment.

Police Believe Threat to Blow Up Tunnel Was a Joke Born on Christopher Columbus Day, Which Italians Celebrated.

the Bronx yesterley celebrated Christopher Columbus L. f. in commemoration of the discovery of America in 1492, may have been the inspiration which prompt ed an anonymous writer to inform Me Mullen & McBean, subway contractors tunnel at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street would be dynamited last night At least, that is the belief of Capt Genegan, of the Alexander avenue police station, and of the contractors themselves.

The letter was addressed to the contractors, informing them that a body of Italias laborers discharged without reason Saturday night would take revenge by blowing up the tunnel with dynamite Monday night. The letter was turned over to the police and an extra guard was put on the tunnel approach.

But the only explosions the guard heard were the bombs and fireworks set off by the celebrating Italians up the hill. The contractors say they discharged no laborers Saturday and that no grievance has been submitted to them by the men who now work for them or who have worked for them in the past.
